Fryer collections

The Fryer Library holds an extensive collection of published and unpublished material, with an emphasis on Australian literature, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander studies, Queensland history, art and architecture.

The Library is a rich store of books, manuscripts, photographs, theses, architectural drawings, oral histories and much more.

Search manuscript collections
Finding Fryer material can be a bit difficult. Here are some tips and tricks to help you in your searching.

What we collect
As the special collections branch of the Univeristy of Queensland Library, Fryer Library has diverse collections: everything from books to unpublished manuscripts, typewriters and cowbells.

Browse manuscript collections
Get an overview of the types of manuscript collections held at the Fryer Library.

Online exhibitions
Explore the Fryer Library's collections online. Exhibitions exist on a range of topics and Treasures profile individual items and collections.
