‘live links’

The International Medieval Bibliography and the Bibliographie de civilisation médievale websites contain ‘live links’ to the Lexikon des Mittelalters (LexMA Online) and to the International Encyclopedia for the Middle Ages.

LexMA is the standard encyclopedia for medieval studies. It deals with all branches of Medieval Studies and covers the period from 300 to 1500 AD/CE for the whole of Europe and parts of the Middle East and North Africa.

The International Encyclopedia for the Middle Ages (IEMA-Online) – A Supplement to Lexikon des Mittelalters offers newly written, commissioned, articles, fully peer-reviewed that supplement LexMA and offer supplementary notes to the original LexMA articles.

Subscription types:

- Standard Licence
  - Offers access to the full information and includes remote access but is limited to three simultaneous users
  - Access is by IP address(es)

- Campus Wide Licence
  - Access is unlimited by IP address(es)
  - Access also includes remote access

- Consortium / Multiple-Campus Subscription
  - Volume discounts are available for qualifying groups of institutions and multi-site licences

- Individual subscriptions
  - For personal use only
  - It offers a single username and password that must not be shared

A Licence Agreement needs to be signed when starting a subscription. Subscriptions run for the calendar year. Each database can also be subscribed to individually.

INTERNATIONAL MEDIEVAL BIBLIOGRAPHY

- Multidisciplinary Bibliography of Europe, North Africa and the Near East (300-1500)
- The IMB offers fully integrated search possibilities with the Bibliographie de civilisation médiévale Online

BIBLIOGRAPHIE DE CIVILISATION MEDIEVALE

- A Comprehensive, Current Bibliography of Monographs

BREPOLiS is the home of all online projects of Brepols Publishers and its partners, aimed at the international community of humanities scholars.

The site offers intelligent and flexible searching of related and linkable databases of unrivalled quality.

BREPOLiS is the home of all online projects of Brepols Publishers and its partners, aimed at the international community of humanities scholars. The site offers intelligent and flexible searching of related and linkable databases of unrivalled quality.

BREPOLS is the home of all online projects of Brepols Publishers and its partners, aimed at the international community of humanities scholars. The site offers intelligent and flexible searching of related and linkable databases of unrivalled quality.
Multidisciplinary Bibliography of Europe, North Africa and the Near East (300-1500)

The International Medieval Bibliography was founded in 1967 with the support of the Medieval Academy of America, with the aim of providing a comprehensive, current bibliography of articles in journals and secondary volumes (conference proceedings, study collections or Encyclopaedia) worldwide. It is editorially based at the Institute for Medieval Studies at the University of Leeds, and the project is supported by over 50 names of contributors in Europe, North America, Australia and Japan.

Last reference point for medievalists to current scholarship

The International Medieval Bibliography comprises 350,000 articles, all of which are fully classified by date, subject and location, and provide full bibliographical records.

The IMB offers an unparalleled tool for medievalists to identify the contents of current work published throughout Europe, the Americas and the Asia-Pacific region.

The disciplines to which the IMB is relevant include Classics, English Language and Literature, History, and Archaeology, Theology and Philosophy, Medieval European Languages and Literatures, Nordic and Islamic Studies, History of Education, Art History, Music, Theatre and Performance Arts, Religion and Communication Studies.

OpenURL – compatible

OpenURL is an intelligent link that offers the possibility to navigate from a bibliographic record of the International Medieval Bibliography or of the Bibliographie de civilisation médiévale to other services.

Users can either conduct a ‘simple search’ or an ‘advanced search’.

Users can either search the bibliographical records of articles (International Medieval Bibliography) and monographs (Bibliographie de civilisation médiévale) simultaneously or select only one of the two bibliographies.

Look-up holding in library catalogues.

The online ‘look-up’ service offers an unparalleled tool for medievalists to identify the contents of current work published throughout Europe, the Americas and the Asia-Pacific region.

Features

- About 50,000 bibliographic records of monographs
- Every bibliographic record is fully classified
- Extensive search possibilities: the search fields and indices are the same for the IMB
- The BCM is fully integrated with the International Medieval Bibliography: users can either search the bibliographical records of articles (IMB) and monographs (BCM) simultaneously or select only one of the two bibliographies
- The BCM is also OpenURL-compatible

A comprehensive catalogue and indexing system, using modern, multi-lingual technology defined by professional medievals for medievals.

Worldwide network of up to 300,000 subject researchers, using automatic, multi-lingual technology defined by professionals for professionals.

Automatic record counts.

Increased possibilities for exporting (into EndNote, RefWorks, Microsoft Office Word).

The IMB’s OpenURL-compatibility via this functionality users have access to a wide range of services: consult holdings in a local or external catalogue, request documents via their preferred document delivery service, and so forth.

A controlled vocabulary

A hierarchical index offers an integrated tree structure comprising some 1,500 subject terms. This allows the user to navigate from nine major conceptual areas through to the specific subject terminology employed in medieval scholar

A parallel index of places allows step-by-step navigation from major geographical areas to over 50,000 different names of places, regions and geographical features in Europe, North Africa and the Near East.

A parallel index of places allows step-by-step navigation from major geographical areas to over 50,000 different names of places, regions and geographical features in Europe, North Africa and the Near East.